List of zones

The list contains all existing zones. Safe Zones are highlighted in blue. The right-hand column shows the Alarm Status of the zone and the number of persons in the zone. If a zone has sub-zones, the number in brackets indicates how many persons are in the main zone only.

Buttons for display format

Use the icons to the left of the zone list to choose between a tree structure and the site plan display.

Tree structure

- Select a zone to display a list of the persons in this zone.
- Right-click on a zone to change its Alarm Status manually. Site plan

Site plan

The site plan shows the devices contained in the zone with their spatial position. The name of the zone is also displayed together with its Alarm Status.

- Right-click on the name of the zone to change its Alarm Status manually.
- Right-click on a device to display or change its settings.

List of persons

Use the icons to the right of the list of persons to choose between a list view, a view with pictures of the persons and a tile view. You also have the following options:

- Select columns to display: Press the gear icon. Select which columns you want to display and in which order. Arrange the columns using the mouse or the arrow icons. Press Apply to adopt the changes.
- Search in columns: Enter text or numbers in the search field (magnifying glass icon) of a column to search for names, personnel numbers, or other criteria.
- Export the entire list: Press the download icon. Select the format in which you want to export the list. The export files are downloaded or displayed depending on the browser/operating system settings. For details on the available export formats, see the General > Export Formats chapter of this manual.
- Update list: Use the Refresh button to update the zone list. This also happens automatically every 15 seconds.
